

Important Information on Changes to ICE NGX Data Access

Company Administration & Fees

Effective January 1st, 2019 new company subscription rates will apply and clients will be billed as per the updated fee schedule for access to ICE NGX data as was communicated on October 19th.

Data billings will be based upon the number of non-trading users accessing data as specified in the Customer Maintenance Report in the ICE NGX Reporting Module (“CMR”). Link to Report
Client Administrators are asked to review the CMR, and inform ICE NGX Market Operations at to-icengx@theice.com of any changes to data access rights.

Redistribution by Third Parties

Also effective January 1st, 2019 ICE NGX will cease to offer ICE NGX Index data to 3rd party data vendors and this data will only be accessible via ICE and ICE NGX.

In early November, all data vendors currently distributing intra-day ICE NGX Index data were notified of this upcoming change. The ICE NGX Indices relate to specific markets in electricity, natural gas and crude oil. Your subscription will continue to provide you access to this data via the ICE NGX Reports.

This change does not affect the delivery of all other ICE Futures data, which you may currently receive from your existing commercial vendors.

ICE also offers a variety of enhanced data delivery services, described below.¹ Please refer to the contact information below if you wish to take advantage of one of these enhanced data delivery services.

¹ Additional fees may apply for enhanced delivery methods
