

NOTICE

Crude Oil Index Names

19 Jun 2009

This is a formal notice to NGX crude customers of an imminent name change to the crude oil indices published on the NGX crude oil trading system.

On July 1, the table in the NGX crude trading system (formerly the NTP trading system) currently entitled "NTP Index Report/ NTP Canadian Index * As generated by NGX" will be renamed "NGX Crude Monthly Index Report (Full)".

The abbreviations "Xtif" and "Xpf" will continue to be used onscreen and in trade confirms as a shorthand for the settlement value of index products (i.e. the value of the index plus the relevant reference value).

There will be no other changes to the names or format of this table. The methodology for generating the indices will remain unchanged.

The official names of the indices in the NGX Index Methodology Guide will be as follows:
